The British Columbia Wine Institute

Blessed by nature, the vineyards of British Columbia's Okanagan region rank among the finest in the world.

As British Columbia wines gain increasing renown in the international marketplace, the need to establish and encourage the highest quality standards for British Columbia's flourishing grape and wine industry is imperative.

The formation of the British Columbia Wine Institute, an association of the province's leading wineries, marks the beginning of a new era for British Columbia wines worldwide.

These fine wines, made from 100% British Columbia grapes, are available through provincial liquor stores and specialty wine shops throughout British Columbia.
